

Charing Cross Hospital open door

Public event Monday 27 November 17.30-20.00

Hospitals are part of the fabric of the community and touch people's lives in many ways – as a staff member, volunteer, patient or visitor. We've organised an evening of activities with a special focus on Charing Cross Hospital – marking and celebrating its past, sharing and clarifying current plans and looking to the future.

Public event - 27 November 2017 (visit our website for more details)

Guided mini-tours

(places need to be booked in advance by phone or email)

17.30 – 18.30 main entrance, Charing Cross Hospital

There will be mini-tours of departments which have had recent investment, many of which have been made possible by Imperial Health Charity.

Public open session + Q&A

(places need to be booked in advance online via our website, by phone or email)

*18.30 – 19.30 Mary Cochrane, Education centre,
Charing Cross Hospital*

Chief executive Ian Dalton, medical director Prof Julian Redhead and other directors will talk about the current and future plans for Charing Cross and open up to your questions, concerns and

Informal discussions

19.30 – 20.00 Foyer, Education centre, Charing Cross Hospital

Talk informally with clinicians and managers and visit information stands.

Please note, places on the tours + Q&A session must be pre-booked via the ways described above for capacity reasons. If we are oversubscribed, we will organise another open evening in the new year.

Web: imperial.nhs.uk/cxhevent

Email: imperial.communications@nhs.net

Tel: 020 331 25587