Driving advice

Information for patients, relatives and carers

Introduction

Your doctor has given you this information leaflet because there has been a change in your health that means you should not drive.

Please do not drive until you have spoken to the DVLA and told them about the change in your health that stops you from driving.

You will need to fill in a form to report your medical condition (form FEP1). You can find this online on the DVLA website.

You will need further investigation and advice from a specialist doctor about when you can start driving again.

Where can I get more information?

Please visit www.gov.uk/driving-medical-conditions

You could be fined up to £1,000 if you don't tell the DVLA about a condition that might affect your ability to drive safely. You could also be prosecuted if you have an accident.
